

Rick King

Mr. King has over 14 years of proven strength and achievements in technology operations and infrastructure, primarily within the healthcare industry. His broad scope of experience includes strategic planning, business development, resource and IT management, network and system design, and business application architecture and development. Mr. King has successfully designed and implemented a highly scalable IT infrastructure to support BDStrategies' rapid company growth, and he oversees all aspects of the company's information management operations.